Subject: - Forwarding of issues/proposals to Head Office-regarding

Sir,

It has been experienced that references are made to Head Office by Zonal Offices for seeking guidance in legal matters/cases without specifically mentioning the point/issue on which the Head Office guidance is being solicited.

2. In most of such references forwarded to Head Office, there is no comments of Zonal ACC or there is no scrutiny/examination of matter of Zonal ACC. As a result it leads to a series of communication between Head Office and Zonal Office seeking clarification, details about facts and figures, background of the matter etc., consuming lot of energy and time at both ends, which is absolutely unwarranted.

3. In view of above, it is requested to avoid the casual forwarding of issues/matters to Head Office for seeking directions/guidance. Instructions earlier issued through various circulars of Head office from time to time, regarding handling of legal cases, should scrupulously be followed before referring any issue to Head office and in case earlier guidelines are not providing any solution, then the matter may be referred to Head Office with due scrutiny, comments and proposal from the Zonal ACC.

Yours faithfully,

(M.P.Varghese)
